DRAINAGE CASE IS POSTPONED. Attorney General Crow Busy With State Bribery Cases.

The hearing in the Chicago Drainage Canal case was again postponed vesterday. This time the date was set forward until May 5. The crowded condition of the hotels, owing to the World's Fair dedication exercises, and the large amount of business which Attorney General Crow and his assistants have with the boodle cases were the principal causes of the postponement. Special Commissioner F. S. Bright of the United States Supreme Court, who is hearing the testimony, arrived in St. Louis from Washington early yesterday morning, and after a conference with the attorneys in the case, agreed to put off the hearing. The meeting took place at the Southern Hotel. Commissioner Bright returned to Washington, departing at noon.

icular information regarding the number of suddiers that will march into the ground in April 3t. It has been heretofore stated hat the troops will be counted, so that every soldier who enters the grounds will be included in the recorded number of ad-missions. It is, of course, impossible for anybory to tell in advance the exact numer of soldiers who will participate in the parade, but the information heretofore critical in The Republic has been sufficient-by detailed to convey an approximate idea which cannot be very far from the facts. Sommarizing the statements printed several days ago, it may be said that there will be about 12,000 soldlers in the column of parade. The regular troops ordered from the various posts in the Department of the Lakes and the Department of Missouri will make about 4,600, counting officers and men. The militia commands will be and men. The militia commands will in-clude at least ten and possibly fourteen reg-im-nts. They will make altogether a min-fmum of about 8,000 soldiers, counting officers and men. A further question asked is whether the admissions to be counted include "partici admissions to be counted include "participants in the grand parade, both civil and military." The World's Fair division of admissions will endeavor to count all who go into the gales, so that the record of admissions will include all in the parade. The parade of April 20, however, is entirely a military parade. The civil parade takes piace on the last day of the dedicatory ceremonies—that is, on Saturday, May 2. There will be no civilians in the parade on April 20, except the distinguished guests and numbers of the Exposition Board of Directors, who will be acting as escoris.

ADMITS SEARCHING HUSBAND'S BODY

Jury Returns a Verdict of Homicide Against Mrs. Minnie Cummings.

TELLS OF RECOVERING LETTER.

Woman Shudders at Sight of Re volver, but Laughingly Discusses Killing After Inquest, When Locked Up.

As Detective Harrington was taking Mrs. Minnie Cummings, who shot and killed her husband at No. 2814 Locust street Saturday night, from the Coroner's office to the Four Courts yesterday afternoon she admitted to him, he says, that she searched her hus band's clothing after she fired the fatal shot, and then tore up the blood-stained note which she had written to him.

city and New York.

In reply to charges that Miss Barton was too old to conduct, as president, the affairs of an association like the Red Cross, her defenders have said that she was but. Indeed, books containing biographical sketches of Miss Barton confirm this, as they say that she was born in Oxford, Mass, in 1898.

The suspended Washington members of the Red Cross, known as the "minority" now say they have an affidavit from the Town Clerk of East Oxford, Mass, saying that she was born there in 1821, and is thus nine years older than her friends assert. This, it is understood, will be brought out in the forthcoming statement of the "minority."

The statement which is to be made to the This is in strict accordance with the theory Chief of Detectives Desmond has had of the case, and is regarded as valuable by nority."

The statement which is to be made to the public and the reply the suspended members will make to Walter Philips and other members of the Red Cross Executive Committee have been sent to Hilary A. Herbert, who is in Alabama, As soon as he returns the documents the twenty-three suspended members will hold another meeting. the police, showing, it is said, that Cummings was invited to go to the room of his wife, from whom he and been separated. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of comicide after hearing the testimony of witnesses yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Cummings, who appeared at the inuest in deep black, and sat with a handkerchief to her eyes throughout the hear-ing, declined to make a statement, except as to the age, birthplace and place of her husband's residence.

As the pistol with which she admits she killed her husband was placed upon the table she raised her handkerchief from her eyes and, looking at the weapon, shuddered-The wept as the witnesses told their stories, but as she was being led back to a cell at the Four Courts by Detective Harrington she laughed and commented upon different phases of the case. SAYS SHE WANTED LETTER.

"Yes," she replied, "I did. I wanted that letter. I tore it up immediately. I had attempted to stanch the flow of blood from the wound in his head with a towel, and I got blood spots on the letter as I tore it up. It is not true, however, that I attempted to secrete the fragments in an inner recess of the grate, but I threw it carelessly on the hearth."

Detective John Keely "sweated" Mrs. Cummings for an hour yesterday morning. Roscoe T. Shaw, the police stenographer, took her statement in shorthand. He transcribed it on a typewriter. It was read to her in the presence of a Republic reporter and two other witnesses. She was requested to sign the statement, after she admitted that it was entirely correct, but refused to do so.

"I will not sign it until after I have consulted my lawyer," she declared. "If he advises it I will sign it. I will say, howsulted my lawyer," she declared. "If h advisos it I will sign it. I will say, how over, that it is perfectly correct."

Chief Keely did not insist upon her signature to the statement, but had the witnesses attach their names to it.

The statement was in authorized.

the statement was in substance the same that made by Mrs. Cummings Saturday ht. It is as follows:

"What time Saturday last did you be this trouble with your husband?"

"I cannot tell exactly. Around 5 lock."

Q: "State, in your own way, just how the trouble was and how it came about."

A: "Well. Saturday morning my husband left after I wan him to my boardinghouse to eat on my ticket. We were speaking at the door and he asked me for moose, I told him I had given him all the money I had. He said: 'You will have to get it in some way; that he would come back and see me later and see that he would get it.

"At the same time I went to Dunn's pawnshop, and I knew there would be trouble. I paid $1 for a revolver with the understanding that I didn't want to buy it. I borrowed it for so many days, with the understanding I would return it when my husband was out of the city and he would give $5 back. State, in your own way, just how WOMAN DESCRIBES KHLLING.

"I got home and found my husband had been searching my room for money. He departed and came back again in twenty minutes. When he came back he was drunk and the first thing he did was to begin abusing me. He called me bad names. He cursed me badly and called me everything. Then he turned around and grabbed a pair of scissors. It looked to me like he was trying to get the scissors apart. Then he threw them in a corner and turned around enough to put his hand in his pocket. I knew he was going after his knife.

"I was standing near the foot of the bed where the revolver was and I grabbed the revolver and shot, and he fell down and the knife fell, wide open."

"What did you do then." saked Chief Keely. WOMAN DESCRIBES KILLING.

Keely.

"I went down stairs and the lady sent for Doctor Rule. He came up and saw that Cummings was dead and how everything was there. I asked the doctor what to do. The doctor said for me to go down to the Four Courts and he would telephone for them to come after him. I came right down here.

"When he (Cummings) was in jail here I came to see him and he told me if I would let any lawyer prosecute him, and even if I left the city, he would travel all over, find me and kill me; that I never should live with another man. That's all."

That portion of Mrs. Cummings's statement pertaining to the scissors is at variance with the sworn testimony of several witnesses who appeared before the Coroner.

Doctor Rule, Policemen Obermueller and O'Neil, who were the first persons to enter the room where Cummings was killed, testified that the scissors were between Cummings's legs when they entered. Mrs. Cummings's legs when they entered. Mrs. Cummings stated that he threw the scissors into a corner of the room. Cummings's body, according to the witnesses, was not near a corner of the room.

FORMER HUSBAND'S DEATH. Mrs. Bodie De Moss of No. 2011 Washington avenue was the first witness called before the Coroner's jury. She stated that Mrs. Cummings had roomed at her house from November 27 to December 23 under the name of Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. De Moss declared that she was compelled to have Mrs. Cummings seek other quarters because of a disturbance raised by Mrs. Cummings and Cummings.

Mrs. Kate Phelps of No. 270 Lucas avenue, the next witness, stated that Mrs. Cummings had boarded with her also. The police have learned that Mrs. Cummings made a statement to Mrs. Phelps about the death of her first husband, who was supposed to have shot limined at their home, on Evans avenue, two years ago. This, however, was not brought out by Deputy Coroner O'Keefe.

Harris was found dead in his bed one morning with a bullet hote in his side.

His wife testified before the Coroner that he killed himself while she slept.

Mrs. Phelps has been quoted as saying that Mrs. Cummings told her that she shot Larris.

Patrolman James O'Noil of the Weight.

that Mrs. Cummings told her that she shot Earts.

Patrolman James O'Neil of the Eighth District, who was the third person to arrive on the scene of the killing, testified to the position of the body. He stated that an open pocket knife lay near Cummings's hand; that the scissors were under the dead man's left leg. The pistol was on the table, he said.

Policeman John Obernueller's testimony was about the same.

Doctor G. B. Rule of No. 775 Washington avenue, the next witness, after describing the wound and the position of Cummings's body, told of finding the knife near his hand and the scissors between the lega. The pistol, he said, was on the table.

"Mrs. Cummings," said Doctor Rule, "was excited, but remarkably well composed. 'Here is the man, doctor, and that is the revolver. I shot him in self-defense,' were the first words she spoke to me."

SAYS CUMMINGS WAS SOBER.

Doctor Rule was recalled to the stand

Doctor Rule was recalled to the stand later and told of finding a bullet in one corner of the room on Sunday.

Mrs. Iona Duff, who owns the house at No. 2314 Locust street, where Cummings was killed, testified that Mrs. Cummings came to the kitchen and told her that she had shot her husband because he came up to the room and chased her around with a knife.

Mrs. Duff stated that she admitted Cummings to the house about 5 o'clock, the spoke of the nice day and went upstairs to his wife'r room. Mrs. Duff then went back to the kitchen, where she was superintending the work of servants. She heard no shot, and the first thing she knew of the killing was when Mrs. Cummings came down and told her ahout it.

She stated that Mrs. Cummings had told her about trouble she had with her husband; that she chalmed that Cummings had stolen her jewelry, and she had him arrested, but that he had been released. She said Mrs. Cummings informed her that she had told him he might keep the jewelry if the possession of it made him happy.

Mrs. Duff stated that Mrs. Cummings had bearded with her about one week, but that she had known her three years. Cummings had been coming to the house since his wife arrived there, the witness said. She had isver heard any threats by either.

The witness declared that so far as she was able to observe Cummings was not intoxicated. Mrs. Duff stated that she admitted Cum Detective Harrington stated that a telephone message had been received that a woman had killed her husband, end that the woman had killed her husband, end that the woman was on her way to the Four Courts. He took her to Chief Desmond's office, and there, he said, she admitted killing her husband.

Policeman August H. Dooley of the Ninth District told of baving been called to No. 333 Lucas avenue and No. 314 Lucas avenue when the Cummings's were boarding at those houses to queil disturbances between them. Once, he said, Mrs. Cummings showed him a hole in a shirt waist which she charged had been made by her husband with a knife. He arrested Cummings once for disturbing his wife's beace, but Mrs. Cummings did not prosecute him.

Mrs. Cummings did not prosecute him.
